AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 29.—A "blind man's trolley line," on which each man is this own conductor, has been installed at the Confederate Veterans home here to enable the blind members of the home to make their way about the grounds. A system of overhead wires is a mystery to the visitors, until it is explained that the sightless men, with the aid of this wire and a cane, are able to go about the grounds at will. Each blind veteran is supplied with a cane on the end of which is a hook. The cane is hooked over the wire and the veteran is then on his way for a stroll to any part of the grounds. The system has worked well, eliminating the necessity of guides for the sightless.

STAGGERING BLOW IS RECEIVED BY AGGIES

(Special to Bryan Daily Eagle).

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., Oct. 27.—Coach Bible's Aggies were dealt a staggering blow here Friday afternoon by Ray Morrison's Mustangs from S. M. U. when the Methodists, scoring the first points marked up against the Farmers this season, won the decision, 10 to 0. The Mustangs, by blanking the Aggies, continued in their record of keeping their goal line uncrossed this season, the only points that the Mustangs have permitted was the result of a field goal in the game with Austin College. The Mustangs defeated the Aggies last season 17 to 6.

The first score made by the Mustangs came in the second quarter. Fay Wilson, Aggie halfback, attempted to punt out of the Aggie danger zone, but Reisor, Methodist fullback, broke through the barrier of Aggie battlers and blocked the punt and the Mustangs recovered on the Farmers' one yard line. The Mustangs attempted two furious plunges into the Aggies' line, but their strenuous efforts were fruitless. On the third down, Willing, Mustang halfback, tore through for the distance and planted the ball behind the Aggie goal line. Stollenwerck kicked goal.

In the fourth quarter Stollenwerck, standing on his 15 yard line, lifted a drop kick over the cross bar for the Mustangs' final three points.

Fay Wilson, sophomore sensation of the Aggies, was the most consistent gainer for the Farmers, while Walling starred for the Methodists. Reisor and Stollenwerck also featured for the Mustangs.

In the final period the Aggies resorted to forward passes, but they were unable to negotiate them successfully.

MORE RETROSPECTION

Mayor Tyler Haswell in conversation the other day asserted that he rode on a street car in Chicago 37 years ago when power-drawn cars were yet in the experimental stage, and the overhead trolley had not been thought of. A line in the Eagle of October 18 carried the information that on that date 31 years ago the first long distance telephone message passed between New York and Chicago. Folks in their very early thirties can remember when the automobile was a curiosity. Possibly the great scientific marvel of the age—the radio—is now the plaything of boys in their teens. And so the progress of the world goes, the nearer to the present date it gets, the more rapid the world's progress in material way has been. In looking back on the progress of the world it has the appearance of a broad highway, and if one takes the scientific view of the age of man rather than the religious view the contrast of the present with the past is even more striking. But man adopts new knowledge to his uses much more rapidly than he will adopt new habits of thought. Take the matter of Easter. Easter is movable festival having a range of some times as much as five weeks. Why the date of Easter was ever designated in relation to the moon no one knows but it is supposed that in the early Christian centuries it had some religious purpose. Then there is the matter of the calendar. Why should some months have 31 days and one have only 28? How much better it would be if all had 28 and every month come in on Monday, for instance. By tacking the 26th day on to the end of the year and using it for a holiday and by tacking the 26th day—when it occurs—on to June, one could soon get the calendar memorized and never need to consult it again. But, like the decimal system in weights and measures, that is admittedly a good thing, but its adoption seems a long way off—Bryan Eagle.

The above reverie brings to mind some of the past and the improvements made in "running things." We knew Ty Haswell in Hempstead nearly fifty years ago, when we were both small boys. He was then just a well dressed little gentleman, the pride of his father, and now he is and has been for several years the guiding hand of a prosperous and enterprising little city. We, too, rode on those "experimental" power driven cars in Chicago nearly 37 years ago, when the power was furnished by a cable under the track. Since then the trolley car has pushed the cable car off the track and they are only a memory of the past.

We remember the first "telephone" we ever saw. It was made by attacking old oyster cans to each end of a cord about one hundred feet long, and treating the cord with rosin, like they use on fiddle strings, and over this "line" a conversation could be carried on at only a few hundred feet, while now one can almost talk around the world, even without the aid of wire. The first automobile we ever saw was owned by Texas Farm and Ranch and was sent on a tour of Texas towns to show it to the people and incidentally to advertise Farm and Ranch. Now they are used by children as toys and play things, while business could not be carried on without them.

And there are things that the Eagle did not mention. For instance the advancement in printing. Thirty-two years ago "we" established the Hempstead News, and our plant, consisting of a Washington hand press (the then universal press for country offices) a job press and ample material to run the business, cost a little less than $1,000, while today the office furniture needed in newspaper offices will cost nearly that much.

Twenty-five years ago, minus two months, we started the Mexia Evening News, with the help of one boy, consisting of four pages, four columns to the page, and printed it on one of those G. Wash. presses, while today the paper has grown to seven columns to the page and from eight to sixteen pages each issue, and it is printed on a press that cost nearly $40,000 and turns out the paper at the rate of 10,000 per hour, printed and folded, and can even be run faster if necessary. The present force consists of about twenty people. And many of the larger city dailies are printed on "machines" at the rate of 100,000 per hour. Some advancement in printing, even during the life of one man.

Twenty years ago, since we came to Mexia, it took a freight wagon two days to make the trip from Fairfield to Mexia and get back with its "cargo," while today it can be done in the regular way in a few hours, while with the modern airship one can cross the continent between sunrise and sunset. Yes, everything (except the calendar) has advanced as the world grows older. But as the calendar is expected to serve throughout eternity, improvements in it may yet be made. Yes, the world is progressing.—N. P. Houx, Mexia News.

This highway is finished from Crockett to the Trinity river bottom now, with hard surface, and will mean much to these counties.

AGED VISITOR HERE.

County Agent C. L. Beason motored to Caldwell Sunday afternoon, his aunt Mrs. W. S. Lackey, returning with him for a visit in the Beason home. Mrs. Lackey is 85 years old, but stood the trip fine, being able to go out to College Sunday night to hear Dr. John W. Laird, lecture.

NEARLY ONE HUNDRED ATTEND SOCIAL MEET PAST FIFTH MONDAY

Nearly one hundred women attended the fifth Monday social meeting of the First Baptist Auxiliary at the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock. Halloween season was emphasized in the decorations and in the delightful program of recreational entertainment provided. Mrs. M. P. Walker as general chairman of the social committee was many times assured during the afternoon of the success and pleasure attendant upon her plans, and many declared the occasion the most delightful yet enjoyed. Each of the seven circles in the general auxiliary took part in the program, each circle having a decorated "booth" from which a part of the refreshment course was served. To secure the "eats" each lady was required to do a "stunt" and she was repaid with a well filled platter of refreshments. The stunts included singing a solo, guessing when blindfolded, jumping over a broom stick, singing a duet with the aid of a French harp and drum, and many other lively features of fun. After all circle booths had been visited, a cup of hot tea with sandwiches was served at the tea table, presided over by members of Circle Number Four. In the merriment and pleasure of the afternoon, the women did not forget the orphans at Buckner Orphan Home, Dallas, and as they entered the door, contributions of clothing and money, were deposited, and the regular quarterly box from the Bryan Baptist women to this institution went forth today. Mrs. W. S. Higgs, being chairman of the Orphan Home work for the year.

BRAZOS ORCHARDS INSPECTED

(From Tuesday's Daily.)
County Agent C. L. Beason, R. R. Reppert, entomologist, and A. P. Swallow, horticulturist, both of the Extension Service, A. and M. College, and F. E. Jones, Route 5, went to Tabor Monday to inspect the M. S. Broach orchard. The inspection was to ascertain if San Jose scale, curculio and other orchard pests be present. This is the first of many inspections to be made by County Agent Beason throughout Brazos county. Farmers in the locality of orchards are invited to be present and demonstrations in spraying, pruning, etc., are given. At these demonstrations all orchard information possible is given and it is believed they will be of great help to the fruit interests of the county.

CONSTRUCTIVE PROGRAM OF RURAL WELFARE NEEDED BY AGRICULTURE

BRENNHAM, Texas, Oct. 29.—For the nation and state to effectively combat forces of reaction and retrogression that are abroad in the land and constantly increasing in number and numerical strength to threaten our institution and continued material progress a constructive program of rural welfare must be adopted for the direction of our efforts in government and which will elevate the farmer to his rightful place in a democracy. These were the summarized words to Dr. W. B. Bizzell, president of the A. and M. College of Texas in addressing the assembly of citizens of Brenham and surrounding country at the annual get-together meeting here today.

Farmer Should Stand High. "In a democracy the farmer must stand high," President Bizzell stated. "He must occupy a place of esteem in the public mind. It is the higher purpose of government to make possible for him an opportunity to acquire that independence that insures this position for him. I am not unmindful that governments have their limitations. I realize there is no substitution for thrift, energy, enthusiasm and devotion to duty. But these qualities find their highest expression when public laws vouchsafe to the individual the security of his property and an equal opportunity with his fellow men to share the full fruits of his endeavor. That nation is best and its future is best insured that causes every man to feel that he shall reap the full rewards of his own endeavor. This principle must underlie any constructive program of rural betterment that gives any promise of perpetuity and contentment for its citizenship."

Program is Needed.

"To reincorporate this principle soundly in our own government we must formulate a constructive program of rural welfare. This program must have for its objective an adequate system of rural schools, a sys-

SPECIALISTS PLAN SPRAY EXHIBITION

R. R. Reppert, entomologist, and A. L. Swallow, horticulturist, of the Extension Service of the A. and M. College, co-operating with County Agent C. L. Beason, will visit the farm of J. L. Broach, Tabor Texas, for the purpose of inspecting Mr. Broach's orchard as to the presence of San Jose scale and other common insect enemies of fruit trees, and to advise with Mr. Broach as to best location, care and keeping of fruit trees. Those living in the neighborhood of Mr. Broach's farm and interested in fruit, should take advantage of the opportunity and meet these specialists at the Broach farm about 9:00 o'clock Monday morning, October 29.

HEARS EBERSTADT ON CHAMBER COMMERCE

Through the efforts of Wm. Schneider, secretary of the Bellville Chamber of Commerce, the women of Bellville, and the Chamber of Commerce, and all others who cared to come were addressed by S. E. Eberstadt, secretary of the Bryan Chamber of Commerce, on Wednesday, at three o'clock in the afternoon, and eight o'clock in the evening.

Mr. Eberstadt was introduced at the afternoon meeting by Superintendent J. T. Shaver, who had brought the high school students with him. At the evening meeting Mr. Eberstadt was introduced by T. B. Wheat, president of the Bellville Chamber of Commerce, and spoke entertainingly for about two hours.

Displayed Banners. The meeting was held in the district court room, where Mr. Eberstadt displayed a great many banners, papers, photographs, pamphlets, and other paraphernalia connected with the advertising and boosting work of the Bryan Chamber of Commerce. He laid a good deal of stress on the excellence of both A. and M. College and of Allen Academy, located at Bryan; he also spoke of the great possibilities of the chicken industry, giving facts and figures of what has been accomplished by Bryan individuals in this line of industry.

Mr. Eberstadt imparted a great deal of valuable information to his hearers on the good that a Chamber of Commerce can do for the town and surrounding rural community. He particularly warned the businessmen and women against fake solicitations for charitable institutions, such as orphan's homes, etc., and against boys and girls who pretend to be seeking scholarships in higher institutions of learning. He was also rather emphatic and gave striking examples of how the public is being cheated out of money by strangers coming into towns and trying to sell newspapers and periodicals, and offering with these razors and other articles of alleged value.

Effect of Trash. Mr. Eberstadt offered no apologies, but told the audience that he was frank in his statements as to the unfavorable impression that is created on a stranger who comes to Bellville or any other town and sees paper, trash, and weeds on the streets and alleys.

Mr. Eberstadt is a forceful speaker, who has in his possession a storehouse of facts gathered during his seven years work for the Bryan Chamber of Commerce. The Bellville Chamber of Commerce was indeed fortunate in having him come over and give such instructive talks and going into minute details of the inner workings of a successful Chamber of Commerce.—Bellville Times.

TEXAS GREATEST GAS WELL COMES IN OVERNIGHT AT CARLOS WILDCAT

Report From Cuthrell Well Is That Roar of Escaping Gas Can Be Heard Three Miles—Promoters Estimate Present Flow of From 20 to 40 Million Cubic Feet Daily.

Beginning with a small flow of gas and rapidly increasing during the night until the flow reached a volume whose roar can be heard three miles, the Cuthrell oil well at Carlos blew in last night, according to M. E. Wallace. In response to a phone call, Mr. Wallace and Sheriff L. E. Morehead left Bryan this morning at 4 o'clock and arrived there at six. They found the well running wild and the sand which was being brought up by the blast rapidly eating away the steel drill stem and blowing out over the top of the derrick, he related.

GREATEST GAS PRODUCER

Jim Carlson of Minneapolis, who is in charge of the well, estimated that the well is producing from 20,000,000 to 40,000,000 cubic feet of gas to the 24 hours, making it the greatest gas producer in Texas. The well being uncontrollable at present, it is the plan to await developments for a few days until the flow either subsides or begins to produce oil in paying quantities. Sufficient oil is being emitted now, according to M. E. Wallace, to flow off down the hill.

Sand Cutting Drill Stem.

Sheriff Morehead says that the sand is rapidly cutting to pieces the drill stem which remained in the hole when the well blew in and that the prospect is that that another well will have to be drilled by the side of the present one after the drill stem falls in. Manager Jim Carlson, he said, estimated that if the gas were under control and being sold at Kansas City prices it would be producing $8,000 per day. The well is to be known as Ruth No. 1. The principal owners of the well are a stock company of Minneapolis people and John Cuthrell, of Navasota, on whose land the well has been drilled. Manager Jim Carlson has announced that he will make his headquarters at Bryan. This wild cat well is the only producer as near as Kosse or Mexia.

LOST—One black mare mule, three years old, 14-1-2 hands high, fresh sheared. Reward for information, J. T. CLOSS, Edge Tex.

STEEP HOLLOW CLUB GIVES BOX SUPPER

(Special to Bryan Daily Eagle)
STEEP HOLLOW, Tex., Nov. 1.—On Monday afternoon, October 29, Miss Laura Belle Roten, home demonstration agent, visited the Steep Hollow school for the purpose of reorganizing our club, six new members were added, and we now have nine members.

To our glad surprise, Miss Roten brought the county nurse, Miss Elizabeth Curtis, who made an interesting talk to the Steep Hollow school. After this, Miss Roten called her sewing girls to class and they did some splendid work. Several members of the class are working for their second year certificates, which will be given to them December 1 by Miss Roten.

The Steep Hollow Sewing Club girls decided to name their club, "Steep Hollow Smiles," and also decided to have a box supper and several things to sell next Saturday night, November 3rd, for the purpose of getting "Steep Hollow Smiles" a sewing machine. We want to say every body has a special invitation and is requested to bring some one with them.

"On Monday afternoon, November 12, 'Steep Hollow Smiles' are going to Mrs. C. P. Powers' with Miss Roten to take our cooking lesson. We intend to make our club the best it has ever been and the best in Brazos county.

Officers were elected as follows: Edith Conway, president; Ruby Foster, secretary, and Myrtle Bullock, club reporter.

TABOR COMMUNITY HAD FINE MEETING HALLOWE'EN NIGHT

A record-breaking crowd of four or five hundred people attended the Tabor Welfare meeting Friday night greatly enjoyed the Halloween exercises. The Tabor school auditorium was appropriately and beautifully decorated in keeping with the spirit of the occasion. Hosts and goblins were stalking about in the dark, many booths were prepared where were kept fortune tellers, "the cat with five legs", "headless and tailless horse", "bridal scene", and many other places of interesting and queer amusement. The soda pop, peanuts, pies and cakes, fishing pools, and the "scads" of confetti flying thru the air, stopping vision, filling hundreds of open mouths gave the carnival phase all necessary touches.

Miss Laura B. Roten, home demonstration agent, acted as sorceress, and from the report of cash taken in at that booth one would judge that we yet live in the age when people can tell all about love affairs, business adventures, travel, education, social tendencies years in advance of the happening.

In the pie-eating contest Gladys Closs was an easy winner over C. B. Hudspeth, Newton Burrows and Miss Virginia West acting as judges. There were present many visitors from Wheelock, Edge, Kurten, Reliance, Bryan, Steep Hollow, helping to make the crowd one of the largest that has been at Tabor in many months. Among the visitors from Bryan were Mrs. G. M. Ammons and son, Ben Frank; Victor Harris, Cliff Edge, Miss Virginia West, Miss Laura B. Roten, Newton Burrows, Marvin Elliott and family, County Agent C. L. Beason and J. L. Worsham.

Walter Armstrong, president of the Tabor Welfare Club, plans to have some prominent speaker address the meeting the fourth Friday night in November on some phase of community welfare and community development, the address to be in keeping with the plan of the Tabor club to put on a program of definite work covering a long period of time.

A CALOMEL YOU CAN SAFELY TAKE

Harshness of Ordinary Calomel Eliminated in Pepsinated Calomel, New English Calomel Treatment for Torpid Liver.

How many times have you heard that "calomel is the only sure way to reach the liver?" Your grandfather knew it, your mother knew it, your doctor knows it—you know it yourself! Calomel is the certain way to stimulate liver to healthy activity, but ordinary calomel is so harsh in its consequence that you can hardly be blamed for not wanting to take it.

There is no reason to deprive yourself of the fine effects of calomel since the discovery of Pepsinated Calomel. It is the best imported English calomel treated with pepsin. It has all the cleansing power of English Calomel, (recognized as the standard of purity), with the soothing qualities of pepsin so that you get the full benefit of calomel without griping, nausea or discomfort. Pepsinated Calomel is especially fine for children. They will take it when they cannot be bribed into taking disagreeable medicine.

M. H. James, Dr. Co., and all reliable druggists recommend and guarantee Pepsinated Calomel to bring relief between sundown and sunup or your money refunded. Try it—we guarantee you'll feel better tomorrow. (Adv.)

RIVERSIDE HOLDINGS WASHINGTON COUNTY CHANGES ITS OWNERS

(Brenham Banner-Press)
The largest real estate transfer ever made in Washington county was probably that whereby J. H. Smith, et al, including the firm of Smith Brothers, highway contractors, have sold the Riverside plantation, located in the Brazos bottoms below Chappell Hill, to Mrs. Bettie Ward, et al, of San Antonio. The deed was filed for record in the county court showing that the consideration was $318,887.50, of which all except $100,000 was cash. Revenue stamps to the value of $319 were placed on the deed.

The Riverside plantation is known as one of the finest in this section of Texas. It consists of about 2,500 acres of choice Brazos bottom land and in a favorable year a fortune may be made from the cotton grown thereon. For the past three years Adair and Haynes have been managers of the plantation, but gave up the management when the place was offered for sale. Both Mr. Adair and Mr. Haynes are now residents of Brenham.

UNWELCOME DREAM PROVES PROPHETIC

Bryan has a dream-prophet hitherto unknown. And his dreams do not go by contraries. This dream-prophet, it would appear from his latest accomplishment, specializes in football prophecy. When Jim Tucker, sport writer, predicted that A. and M. would easily defeat S. M. U. and that the latter could not expect even to score except by some fortunate fluke, it was taken in these parts a very truthful and reasonable prediction. But here in Bryan there was a man who by some occult power with which the majority of us are not gifted had forebodings to the contrary. On Friday morning Roy Stone told a news-gatherer for the Eagle that he had dreamed that S. M. U. was going to beat A. and M. that day by the score of 14 to 0. The newspaper man laughed off the incident. But when he came around the next morning he was reminded of the prophetic dream and was compelled to admit that that was surely one time when a dream came true, or practically so.

HALLOWE'EN AFFAIR BY FRIENDSHIP BIBLE CLASS MUCH ENJOYED

Saturday night, a Halloween party which for real pleasure and originality of arrangement was a brilliant success, was given by the Friendship Bible Class, in their class room of the First Baptist church. Unique invitations had been sent through the mail, and when the appointed hour of eight o'clock arrived, mysterious looking guests were at the door to be received. Every one was masked, and not a word was spoken by the two ghosts, who, with icy fingers gave a handshake at the door and the stairs, point the guests to the upper room where even a more mysterious line of hostesses awaited them. Halloween decorations made the rooms beautiful and with fortune telling, ghost stories, bobbing for apples, a pumpkin patch where everybody received a "pumpkin pie," made up the program of entertainment. Refreshments of punch and cake were served from a "fountain of youth" by a "witch and a frog." The entertainment committee to whom the class are indebted for this beautiful affair was composed of those whose birthdays came during the month of October and were as follows: Misses Louise Hillyer, Mary Galbraith, Ethel Evans, Elva Trant and Evelyn Crawford.

ROBS CALOMEL OF NAUSEA AND DANGER

Medicinal Virtues Retained and Improved—Dangerous and Sickening Qualities Removed—Perfectly Tolerated—Called "Calotabs."

The latest triumph of modern science is a "de-nauseated" calomel tablet known to the drug trade as "Calotabs." Calotabs, the most generally useful of all medicines thus enters upon a wider field of popularity—purified and refined from those objectionable qualities which have heretofore limited its use.

Now it is the easiest and most pleasant of medicines to take. One Calotab at bedtime with a swallow of water—that's all. No taste, no griping, no nausea, no salts. A good night's sleep and the next morning you are feeling fine, with a clean liver, a purified system and a big appetite. Eat what you please. No danger.

BRAZOS COUNTY

BOYS AND GIRLS CLUB DEPARTMENT

Club Notes and Farm News by County Agent C. L. Beason

Destroy the Weevil.

Practical experience and scientific investigation agree that one of the most—if not the most—successful ways to combat the boll weevil is the early destruction of the cotton plant, destroying the cotton plant before frost and before the weevil hibernates, or goes into winter quarters. November 16 is the average time for frost in Brazos county, hence this leaves us only about two weeks to turn under green cotton plants on the thousands of acres that have been planted to cotton this year.

Comparatively speaking, we have been hurt but little by the boll weevil this year, and in this connection it should be recalled that last fall there was more plowing and fall preparation of land than had been done in Brazos county for many years before. The green bolls and squares found in the cotton fields now are literally filled with boll weevil punctures, certainly giving us fair warning that the pest will face us again next year. The entomologists tell us to "kill 'em in '23; miss 'em in '24." If we hope to raise cotton, the campaign to kill the weevil now ought to become county-wide. There is everything to gain and nothing to lose.

The Seventh Jew in Agriculture.

James H. Collins in the Farm Journal, November, gives an account of six Jews who have contributed toward the betterment of agriculture naming "Barney" Baruch preaching the gospel of warehousing and farm credits; Eugene Meyer Jr., manager of the great War Finance Corporation; Aaron Sapiro, the champion of co-operative marketing; David Lubin, the founder of the International Institute of Agriculture; Henry Morgenthau, Jr., editor of American Agriculturist; Nathan Straus, the friend of pastured milk for the babies of America; but the seventh Jew who is lending encouragement to a better agriculture is Sam E. Eberstadt, secretary of the Bryan Chamber of Commerce, a champion and tireless work for community organization as the foundation for rural progress and the building of a better agriculture.

Free Trips for Boys.

R. W. Persons while visiting clubs of Brazos county last week, called attention to the fact that the Santa Fe Railroad is offering to club boys ten trips to Chicago this year, trips to be made about the first of December, the contest closing November 15, and the trips to be awarded on the following score: 20 per cent for 500 word story of club project, 30 per cent for greatest cash returns on project, 30 per cent for greatest net cash profit, and 20 per cent for the best record book turned in. Several boys in Brazos county ought to try for this great trip.

The women of the Extension Club have endeared themselves to the club members of Brazos county by the royal entertainment given the boys and girls last Saturday afternoon, October 27. County Judge H. O. Ferguson generously tendered the use of the court house lawn that the club members might have ample room for games, contests, and for serving delicious fruit punch, ham and peanut sandwiches. Steele's Store, Edge, Tabor, Kurten, Steep Hollow, Bryan, Woodville and Knob Prairie were among the communities represented. In the exciting apple races Ezra Bozeman, Norma Ruth Hill, Curtis Eden and Joe Trilla were the winners. Miss Curtis health nurse, and Miss Rae Wilcox, teacher of the Knob Prairie school, acting as judges.

England Hears of Tabor.

Mr. R. W. Persons, assistant state agent in charge of boys' club work, Extension Service, A. and M. College, in speaking to the Tabor club members on Tuesday, October 16, said the work of the Tabor club in winning State championship in 1921 had helped to put club work in England and arouse interest in club work in other European countries, where the Tabor record book had been sent, and where the story of the work of the Tabor club had been told. Because of this record, he suggested that the work of the Tabor club had not been finished, but that it was up to the club to continue to set a pace for others to follow.

Get Fowls Ready.

Poultry raisers of Brazos county should lose no opportunity in seeing that their best poultry, in the best condition, is exhibited at the poultry show, December 5-6-7.

Distinguished Visitor Here.

I. W. Hill, in charge of boys' and girls' club work in the South and Southwest, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., stated while visiting Tabor, Edge, and Kurten clubs on Tuesday, October 16, that the $8,000,000 of wealth created annually by the 600,000 club members in the U. S. was only the economic value of the club work, and small in comparison with the development of farm life and the training for service in life's duties and responsibilities. He stated that club work is the only institution in the world for boys and girls that had an economic foundation and which, in addition, could serve the purpose of other organizations. Mr. Hill was formerly State Superintendent of Public Instruction in Alabama, and has for many years been connected with the club work of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, his experience as an educator and his work in the Department of Agriculture having given him a broad vision of the problems confronting the rural schools of today in their efforts to adapt the work of the schoolroom to the solution of the problems of the farm and home. His talks at the several schools will, it is believed, be most helpful, not only to the club members, but also to the teachers as well. He spoke in highest praise of the fine club luncheon served by the Edge club members and asked for a copy of the several community and club songs which the members sang for him at each of the schools visited. Our only regret is that the fathers and mothers of the boys did not hear the wholesome talks by this good man.

Moral Uplift Need of Agriculture.

During Dr. John W. Laird's great lecture last Sunday at Guion Hall on "The Royalty of Men," the students of A. and M. College were told that the outstanding need of agriculture is the moral life of this day and generation, and not merely the propagation of better seed, the breeding of better livestock, or solving a great problem in engineering.

Poultry Show Catalogue.

The catalogue announcing the poultry show December 5-6-7 is just off the press. It differs from the ordinary in that the advertising it carries is by poultry raisers and people dealing in poultry products. It has several articles by poultry specialists, which will make the pamphlet worth keeping. Manager V. J. Boriskie deserves much credit.

Sayings of I. W. Hill.

"Character building is one of the functions of the public school of today."

"Too little attention is paid to social life in the country."

"If boys and girls on the farm would use their heads instead of only their arms, they could make two dollars in the country while they could make one in town."

"If there is anything I like better than a little boy, it is a little girl."

"You boys and girls can earn more each day in school than you can earn unprepared out in the world in two days."

"Unfortunately too many of the teachers of today are little girls out to make enough money to buy a trousseau."

"Boys and girls should be required to study civics and economics in order to meet the demands of the day."

"We today would be the richest people in the world, if we had followed Dr. Knapp's suggestions about producing food and feed. Nobody ever got rich by growing only one crop."

HUNTING SEASON HERE FOR DUCKS AND DOVES

Thursday morning at daybreak opens the hunting season for ducks, geese and doves in the south zone of the state, which includes Bryan. Merchants are putting ammunition and guns out on display in anticipation of the opening of the season and many groups are discussing the return of the winter sport. Among the rumors of hunting parties is one to hunt deer. The cool, cloudy weather makes the season almost ideal for sportsmen and the breaking of day Thursday may witness the demise of many an unsuspecting dove, duck and goose.

YES, WE HAVE NO WOOD

"Yes, we have no wood today," is the answer received by the many who are trying to put in a supply of wood for the winter months, as now we are being reminded that summer is gone. The fresh arctic and cold rain of the past few days, made the search for fuel imperative and the people generally have found it almost impossible to buy wood. The favorable season of cotton picking just closing has attracted the labor to the cotton fields, and the cutting of cord wood for winter use, seems to have been "passed up." Bryan dealers are hard at work trying to locate and secure wood for their customers.

The home was attractive with floral decoration, and cordial hospitality, with the presence of loving friends and neighbors, made the hour one long to be remembered by all present. Mrs. G. F. The entire effect was pleasing to the eye, and the charming hostess, gowned in golden yellow crepe, seemed an integral part of the entire color scheme. Mrs. Barnes will be able to contribute a great deal in the way of artistic touch to Bryan's social life.

I. B. TODD'S 55TH ANNIVERSARY OBSERVED WITH SYLVAN BARBECUE

At the lake in Mr. I. B. Todd's pasture, near his beautiful home on Rock Prairie, last Saturday the 27, inst., there was one of the most pleasant occasions that has ever been witnessed by any group of people anywhere. The occasion was in honor of Mr. I. B. Todd's fifty-fifth anniversary.

There were present many of his near relatives, all his neighbors and a few specially invited friends. These friends were his old time hunting pals, namely: George Davis of Grimes county, Jno. D. Jones of Harvey, J. W. Barron, T. C. Nunn, R. M. Nall and A. W. Buchanan all of Bryan. The friendship that is held by these men is of life long duration, dating clear back to boyhood days.

Hunted in Boyhood.

If the good times they have had together and the joyous scenes that they enacted in the chase and around the roaring camp fire could be written out, would fill many a volume which would make some of the most interesting and no doubt spicy reading. There are no ties of real friendship on this earth that are more tender and enduring than those that are formed around the camp fires of hunting trip between honest, rugged men, and I pity the man or men that knows no such ties of pure friendship and has been deprived of all the real joy of a "camp hunt" but it takes real men to make and appreciate this joy. One of the sad things that comes to my life now, is the thought that the march of so-called civilization has destroyed or driven away our wild game, and let me say here, that the strangest thing that I have ever thought about is that the people of the south are so wrapped up in commercial pursuits that they are letting all the wild game go, and are giving no thought of trying to retain some of our beautiful though fast disappearing forests for game preserves.

Four Score Present.

Altogether there were present on the above occasion about 85 people.

BRYAN AND COLLEGE REPRESENTED QUEEN'S CORONATION AT WACO

Surrounded by every semblance of oriental splendor and mysticism, Queen Zobeida, impersonated by Miss Pauline Breustadt, was crowned queen at the Waco Cotton Palace Tuesday evening by Caliph Haroun-Raschid, impersonated by J. Bruce Duncan. With blue and gold predominating, the effective oriental note was stressed in the throne room. Duke Lovell, clad in crimson and swirling his scimitar, made the first appearance. He awakened a group of lovely maidens who were reclining around the border of a blue pool. There followed the caliph and his retinue, the queen and her retinue, and the gorgeous coronation.

The queen was attended by a number of the prettiest and handsomest from the towns of Texas, among them being Miss Nanne Shel Waldrop, duchess of Bryan, and her escort, Frank Seale, Miss Patricia Sims, maid to the duchess, and her escort, Charles Westbrook of Waco; Miss Elaine Bizzell, duchess of College Station, and her escort, S. C. Bartlett, Miss Lily Bess Kyle, maid to the duchess, and her escort, S. P. McGee. PUBLIC PROTECTED IN BUYING STELLA VITAE

Generous Offer To Refund Purchase Price If Not Benefitted Arouses Widespread Interest.

The explanation of the phenomenal success of Stella Vitae in relieving suffering is really very simple. This treatment is a preparation carefully compounded and correctly proportioned from various roots and herbs long known to science to possess extraordinary powers of healing, by a soothing effect, the particular organs whose diseased condition causes what are known as female troubles.

and when the dinner was spread in the shade of the beautiful trees, and all had gathered closely around, Mr. J. W. Barron called the attention of the crowd to the fact of there being some presents brought by different ones, and piling them all down together he announced that the writer had been selected to present the host with the presents, and called on Mr. Buchanan to proceed, which he did with some well chosen and appropriate words, which seemed to be very much appreciated by all present, while the host was so overcome with emotion as well as surprise, that he could not give utterance to words of appreciation.

Grace was then said over the dinner, and right here the writer desires to state that he believes that he himself has eaten at more big public dinners than any living man, and he is quite sure that he has never seen nor partaken of a better one than this one was, the very best barbecue, kid and pig together, with an abundance of tender juicy squirrel, with every thing else to make it a perfect dinner, even a good supply of black coffee, of the real camp quality. From all appearances there never was a crowd that enjoyed anything better than we did that dinner.

Departed at Two.

At 2 o'clock the crowd began to break up and leave, each one on his departure assuring their host that they had spent one of the happiest days of their lives, each one wishing for him many returns of the same happy occasion. No better man has yet lived in Brazos county than "Iroo" Todd, as he is affectionately called by those who love him best. He stands four-square for good citizenship, broad minded, big hearted, ruggedly honest, the father of one of the finest families in the county, fifteen living children, several grand children, and a world full of friends, such a man is Iroo Todd, and we are glad to call him friend—may he live long and prosper, and his tribe increase. A. W. BUCHANAN.

SAMUEL GIDEON TELLS OF IMPRESSIONS HAD IN TRAVELING FRANCE

Samuel E. Gideon, who with Mrs. Gideon, has recently returned from a five months' trip to France and is now visiting in the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Cavitt, expressed himself as being thoroughly charmed with France. The French people, he said are just as cordial to Americans as could be and really seem to like them for their own selves aside from any benefits they might expect to gain from American aid.

Mr. Gideon was formerly connected with the University of Texas as professor of architecture and is en route to California. Four months of the stay of Mr. and Mrs. Gideon were spent at a fine arts school in Fontainebleau, France, a short distance from Paris. This school, Mr. Gideon explained, was established by the French government especially for Americans and has an attendance of 200. Among the 200 there were 20 Texans, one of whom was Jack Finney, formerly of A. and M. College. France is a beautiful and fertile country, asserted Mr. Gideon, and everybody works. One month of the stay of Mr. Gideon and his wife was spent in travel. They visited most of the chateaus, palaces, and cathedral towns of the country, particularly in South France. While they saw some of the spots in North France made historic by the World War, they merely viewed them in passing. English, said Mr. Gideon, is commonly spoken in the centers of population in France but it is mostly of the London variety.
